CASE STUDY

KENSINGTON VICTORIAN FLAT

The Kensington Victorian Flat project was a meticulous restoration and renovation of a classic period property, blending its rich historical character with modern luxury. By preserving key architectural features while incorporating contemporary design elements, we delivered a sophisticated, high-end living space that honors its Victorian heritage.

THE CHALLENGE

The primary challenge was to modernize the flat without compromising its Victorian charm. The property required structural enhancements, improved spatial functionality, and the integration of modern comforts while preserving intricate period details such as decorative moldings, fireplaces, and original flooring.

THE SOLUTION

Our team carefully restored and refinished the property's historic architectural features, while introducing modern design solutions, high-end finishes, and bespoke joinery to enhance both functionality and aesthetic appeal. Smart home technology, energy-efficient lighting, and contemporary fixtures were seamlessly incorporated to create a perfect balance between tradition and modernity.

THE RESULT

The Kensington Victorian Flat is now a harmonious fusion of old and new, where Victorian elegance meets contemporary sophistication. The renovation has not only elevated the property's luxury appeal but also significantly enhanced its market value. The client was thrilled with the transformation, leading to continued collaborations and reinforcing our reputation for excellence in heritage restoration and bespoke interior design.

CASE STUDY

CLOUDESLEY RD LISTED BUILDING

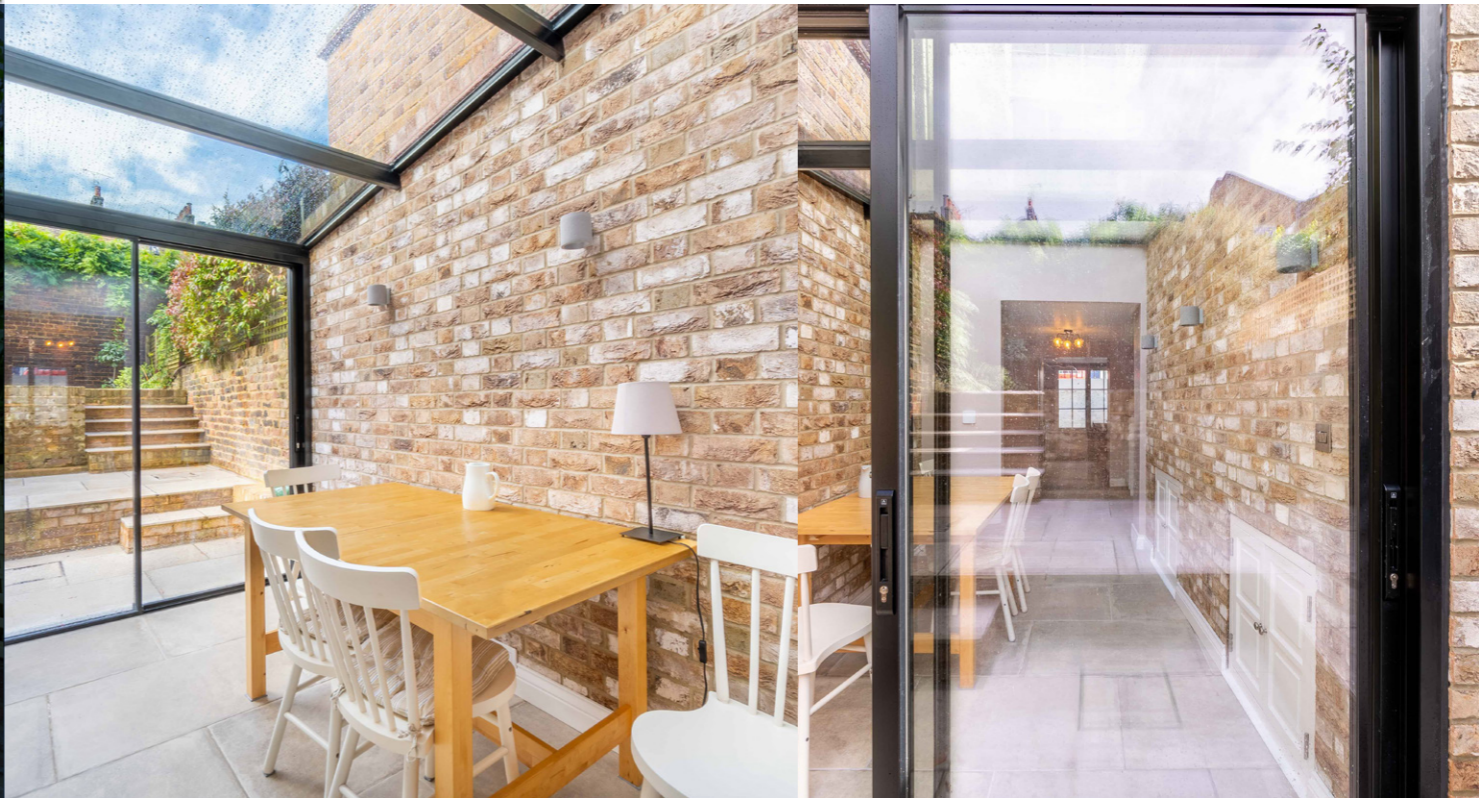

The Cloudesley Road Listed Building project involved an ambitious transformation, blending historic charm with modern architectural elements. By adding a sleek glass extension, a new brickwork structure, and a complete internal reconfiguration, we created a contemporary yet sympathetic enhancement to this heritage property.

THE CHALLENGE

As a listed building, the project required meticulous planning and compliance with heritage regulations to ensure all modifications respected the original structure. The challenge was to seamlessly integrate a modern glass extension and a new brickwork room while maintaining the integrity and character of the existing building.

THE SOLUTION

Our team collaborated with conservation specialists and architects to design and construct a striking yet complementary glass extension, allowing natural light to flood the interiors while preserving the building's historical essence. The addition of a new brickwork room was carefully executed to blend harmoniously with the existing façade. The full internal reconfiguration maximized space efficiency, improved functionality, and introduced high-end finishes for a sophisticated, modern feel.

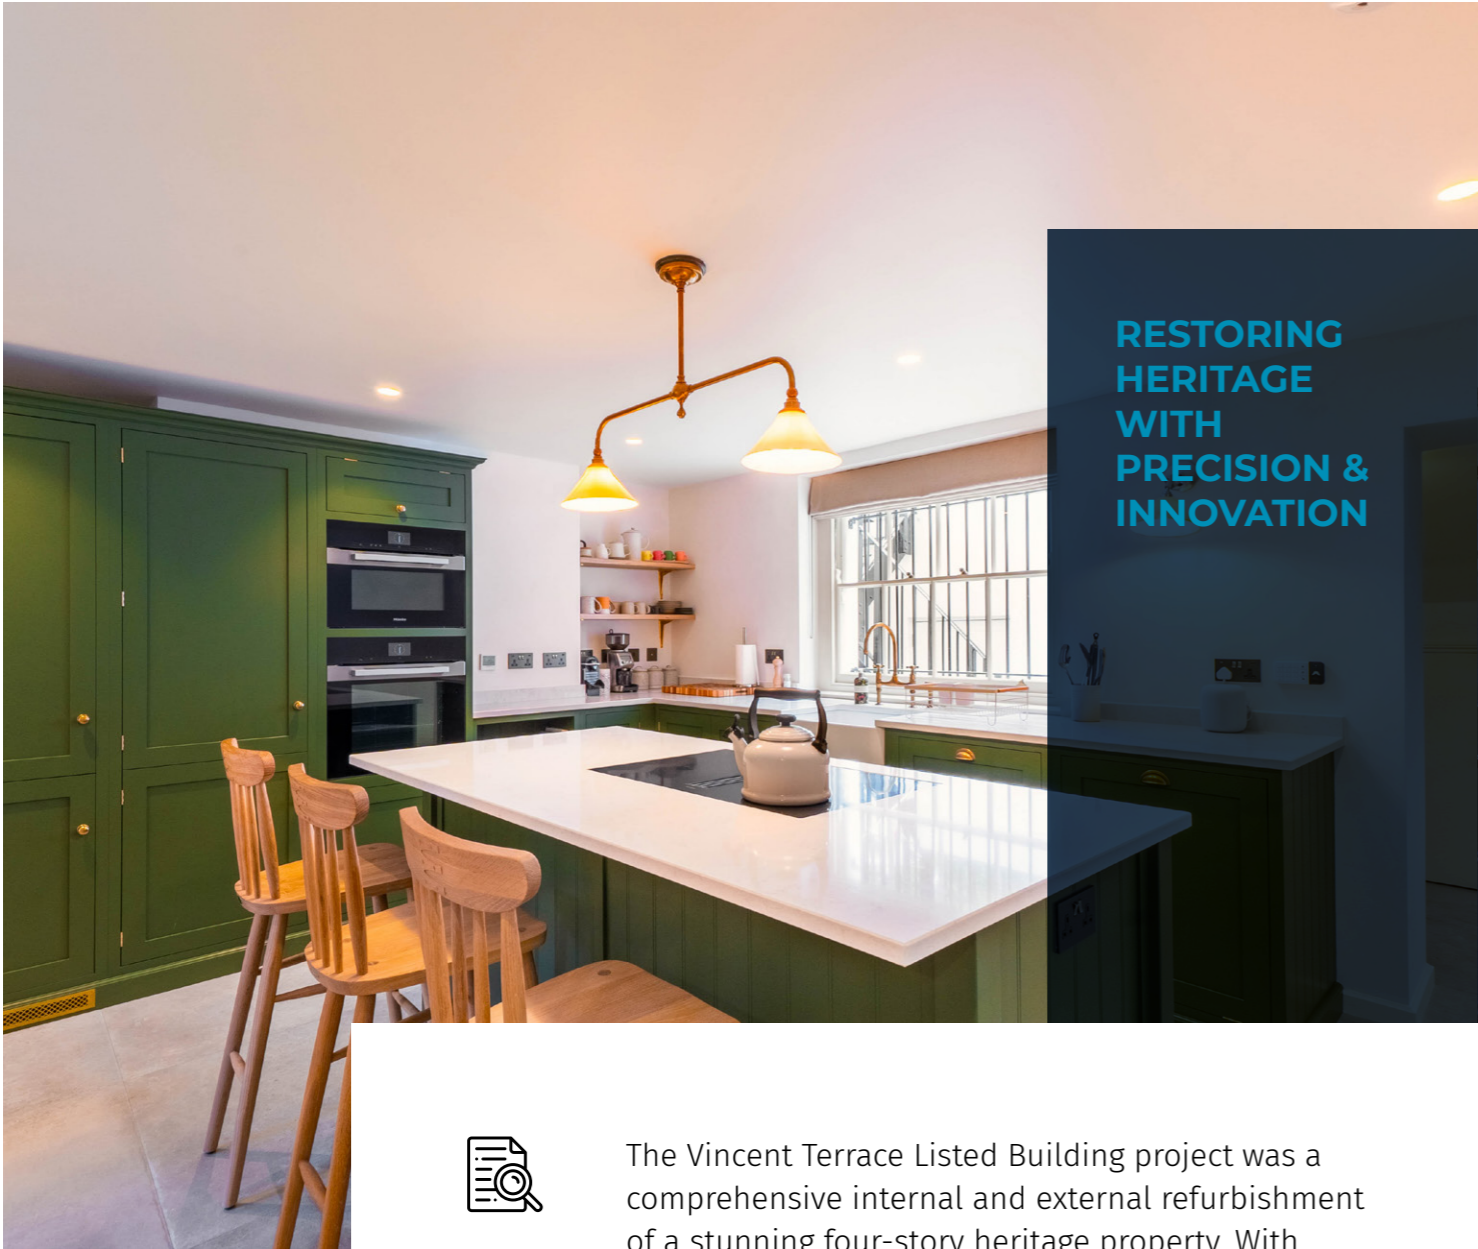

THE RESULT

The Cloudesley Road Listed Building now stands as a perfect balance between old and new, with an elegant glass structure that enhances its traditional charm. The project not only respected and preserved the building's heritage but also added contemporary elegance, increased property value, and improved livability. The client was highly satisfied with the transformation, reinforcing our expertise in listed building renovations and modern architectural integration.

CASE STUDY

VINCENT TERRACE LISTED BUILDING

The Vincent Terrace Listed Building project was a comprehensive internal and external refurbishment of a stunning four-story heritage property. With lower ground floor waterproofing, structural reinforcements, and a full reconfiguration, we revitalized the home while preserving its historic charm.

THE CHALLENGE

Renovating a listed four-story property presented a unique set of challenges, including structural complexities, waterproofing requirements, and the need to modernize the space without compromising its period character. Strict conservation guidelines required careful attention to detail in restoring original features while integrating contemporary functionality.

THE SOLUTION

Our team executed a full internal and external refurbishment, restoring intricate period details while reinforcing the structure for long-term durability. The lower ground floor underwent advanced waterproofing, ensuring protection against moisture damage while maintaining a dry and stable environment. We also carried out extensive structural works to enhance the building's integrity and executed a thoughtful reconfiguration of the interiors, optimizing space, improving flow, and incorporating high-end finishes to meet modern living standards.

THE RESULT

The Vincent Terrace Listed Building now stands as a perfectly restored and modernized heritage home, offering enhanced functionality while preserving its architectural significance. The project elevated the property's value, improved its structural resilience, and created a refined, sophisticated living space.
